※ Important Notice

- The ownership of award-winning works, from Grand Prize to Fifth Place, will be vested in the Seoul Fine Arts Association, the organizer of the competition.
- Submissions must be original works that have not been shown before domestically or internationally and should not infringe upon the rights of others.
- Any work that has received an award in other competitions, plagiarized other works, or violated copyright law will have its award rescinded; the certificate and prize money will be reclaimed.
- Works that deviate from the specifications stated in this announcement will be excluded.
- The submitted works should have no legal issues regarding personality rights, copyrights, ownership, distribution rights, etc. Any disputes related to this matter will be the sole responsibility of the applicant. In such cases, the award may be revoked, and the certificate and prize money may be reclaimed.
- The copyright (moral rights and economic rights) of award-winning works belongs to the artists. However, once the artists have received certificates and prize money from this competition, the Seoul Fine Arts Association will be deemed to have acquired the economic rights of said works after providing appropriate compensation. Consequently, the Seoul Fine Arts Association has the right to use (i.e. create, replicate, distribute) the award-winning works for promotional and public purposes, and within the scope of these purposes, the Seoul Fine Arts Association can modify and use the entirety or part of the works. If applicants do not agree with this condition, their submissions will be excluded from consideration.

- If an award recipient violates the Seoul Fine Arts Association's usage rights by, for example, transferring the economic rights of their work to a third party (e.g. individual, company, organization) other than the Association, the award may be canceled, and the prize money may be reclaimed.
- Applicants must provide all necessary information truthfully. By agreeing to the terms regarding copyright and personal information, the applicants are deemed to have fully understood the notice.
- The dates are subject to change, and all announcements will be posted on the Seoul Fine Arts Association website.
